

GARDENISER HUB LEARNING PATHWAYS IMPACT

TRAINEESHIP >

IN EUROPE

After the training of trainers and Gardeniser pro training courses, the Gardeniser learning pathway foresees local and international traineeships.

In Gardeniser hub, the aspiring Gardenisers had the opportunity to run their traineeships in one of the following European countries:

Austria, France, Italy, UK, Denmark, Poland and Sweden.

Here we share some of their learnings and impressions.

'The traineeship experience at an urban community garden was essential to be able to consolidate and personalise the theoretical contents learnt during the Gardeniser Pro course.'

'During my traineeship I realised that the professional figure of the Gardeniser can be fruitful and supportive in the establishment of new urban community gardens.'

Gardeniser pro course

74 participants, aspiring to become Gardenisers attended the Gardeniser pro training course.

RITA Z., ITALY

'I was able to capture the internal relational climate between the gardeners and the volunteers, highlighting relational difficulties that allowed me to understand the skills that the Gardeniser must possess to help improve these relationships and orient their action towards greater inclusion of participants in social activities.'

PARTICIPANT FROM THE UK

'It was so insightful to visit community gardens in a different country. Learn some great gardening techniques and design... It was also helpful to see that despite being in a different country the challenges of creating a community garden were the same.'

ANGELIKA, AUSTRIA

'What I liked the most was the possibility of bringing the acquired knowledge into practice and the exchange of experiences between gardeners.'

PARTICIPANT FROM FRANCE

'Gardeniser was a chance for me to learn, to know more people with my interests, and to have the tools and legitimacy to intervene and to explore new areas for my personal and professional life.'
